each, and with exceptional powers of botervation. Some points are pretty well established, however, and they are each as will afford pride and astisfaction to the people of Freeno. The directors have been prafoundly impressed with the resources of this section of the valley and the splendid appearance of the viacy have freely admitted that the thing was a revelation to them. That the road would passe Freeno at a distance was about as improbable as that a minor driving a transel would turn his back to the mother lode.

The special cilition of the Excentrax issued on the occasion of the visit of the the mother lode.

The special edition of the Revenucan issued on the occasion of the visit of the Intll Million Club foreshadowed very closely in its rathroad article the events which have come to pass during the last five days. The map which accompanied the article showed the probability of two lines south, one possing through Visalia, the other through Hanford. The lines thus ladd down are almost exsetly the routes over which the directors traveled in their cross country trip of 200 miles.

The visitors maintained their reputa-

The vicilors maintained their reputation as sarly birds by being up and trouly for breakfust yristerday morning at 7 o'clock. By 8 o'clock they were ready for their land drive in this part of the valley. Two four-in-hands were in readiness, and the following members of special committees from the Ulamber of Commerce and the Handred Thousand Ulab accompanied the visitors: Harry Sherwood, Lonia Elinabein, Arthur R. Briggs, A. J. Wienur, San Waldenburg, A. L. Hohls, O. J. Woulward, John D. Gray, T. C. White, Fulton G. Berry and J. W. Short, The west side of town was lirst visited and the visitors were shown the budding glories of Kearney avonue with its pulms stretching westward for eleven miles. Needless to say they did not drive the entire longth of the avonue, but book a general anney of the situation and the facilities available if it should be decided to have the railroad enter Fresno on the west side. The return was made by 11 o'clock, and after a short rest the party started cut to take a look at the vineyards cast of town. The tripwards cast of town. The tripwards cast of town. The tripwards cast of town. The tripward cast of the Far grounds to the Buther vineyard and set the Rail product of bis own vineyard, then to Cothout vineyard and set the Rail product of his own vineyard. The beautiful house and grounds were duly admired, and the party did not forget to inspect the two big wine tuns, each of which is larger than the world-famed Heidelberg tuns. At 30 clock the journey was resound and the Barton winery was visited. The return to town was accomplished by a little after 4 o'clock, the directors having an important appointment at that hour.

Committees from the Chamber of Commerce and from the One Hundre Thousand Club met the directors in the perfors of the Hughes hotel 12st night and mutual exchange of idea was had. For the first time the officers of the road made known what they expected the BOILER EXPLOSION people of Freeno to do. No cash is expected to be turned over to the road. A right of way is required from one side of the county to the other. Ample depot grounds must be provided. The directors are distrous that the road come to Freeno, and they sak for not only the right of way, but for grounds for the depot, yards, round house, offices, machine shops, and for other necessary purposes. These grounds must be large, for it is the Intention to make Freeno division headquarters. It is half way between Stockton and Bakersfield. The company intends to locate machine shops here, and of course there must be a round house and large yards. The land must all his furnished the railroad free.

Up to this time everything has been in doubt. The directors of the road had not made known what was expected of this county, nor limit they amounted whether the road would touch this city. Consequently, the people here could take no definite action. But now it has settled down to a business proposition. The people have something to work on. The directors did not dictine the route into and out of the city, nor the location of the depot. There are must diet route has most of the depot. There are must determine. The next thing will be to examine the different routes by which the road may enter the city and depart from it, and the grounds that may be had; of course, considering always the cost; and the best and cheapet will be selected. The money for purchasing must be raised. This will be an important materials in the field is a hand which, if taken at the flond, leads on to fortune. The mill was run by staam, generated in an old eighty-losse power beiler, which, it is reported, had been con-domined by an inspector a few days be-fore. Thirtteen men were employed in the mill. This morning they were at work, when a belt broke, shutting dow operations. While it was being repaired nobody paid any attention to the boiler, which was making steam, for a hot fire had been kindled under it. Suddenly there was a terrific exalomaking an nujustifiable invidious distinction against the Admiral. In the cities, towns, villages, hamlets and country places of the land today nothing is quite as common in the conver tion of men as unfavorable criticisms of the President's policy, both foreign and domestic. Nor is this criticism confined to the voters of the apposition parties You will hear nearly as much of it fro the lips of Democrate as from Republi-cans or Populists. If the President has decided to punish his critics he has taken a large contract, and if, on the contrary, he has selected Admiral Mende as a special mark for hisdisfavor, he is manifestly unjust. Oakland is in the midst of another saloon war, the question being whether or not the saloons shall be closed on Sundays. In its spasmodin actions on this question Oakland is, like Artsmus Ward's bear, 'an amoosin' little cuss.' We remember, for instance, a spasm which doubled up that city purhaps two or three yearsago. Thousands of voters at that time attached their signatures to an agreement to vote against the saloons. When election day cannot about one-fourth of them, as we recollect it, voted as they agreed; the remaining three-fourths voted whisky straight. If this had occurred in aimost any place except the Western Athens a careful mathematician might have computed that about three-fourthed of the Oakland voters were qualified to join an Ananias club. In the present instance thousands of them have signed the petition for Sunday closing, but one is justified in presuming that the great majority of them meant nothing by it. The willing-to-get-there comm man may generally get the best of the financial argument, but he doesn't always have the advantage in the stories that go about. Here is the lutest one on him, and it loces nothing in the fact that it is true:

A local commission man was making hay while the sun shone at a recent party he attended. His mower ran against a prominent viticulturist, and him the commission man addressed:

"Can't I contract your raisins this season?"

"Just as soon let you have them as anybody if I can get us much from you. What will you give?"

week, but a much graver condition of things is indicated in a few isolated enese, where the sphinx enterpillar is getting in its work.

A number of specimens from the Estrella vineyard were handed to a reporter for inspection youterday morning. A cigar hox full of vine leaves on which were about 20 lively exterpillars was placed on the deek. Two varieties were ropresented. One was the larva of the grapovine sphinx (Philampelus Achemon), each specimen being about three inches bong and nearly as thick as a little finger. The color was a violet brown, with light stripes on the side, and the tall was furnished with a current horn. The other variety, Dellephila Striata, was about the same size, but of a yellowish green color, with longitudinal markings on the sides. It also was furnished with a horn at the faul. It as peculiarity of these enterpillars that in ordinary years they feed only on the weeds in which they are brod, and it may weeds have been left in a vineyard by neglect of the cultivator, the chances of the appearance of the caterpillars, of the city of the caterpillars are very considerable in certain years, for there is an element of periodicity in their invasions. Some time ago Farley and a man named Smith were arrested for steading it a buggy role from Damron's livery at able. A trial was held and Smith pleaded guilty and somerated Farley. Smith went to jail, and afterwards seat for the District Attorney and informed him that he had been induced to plead guilty by Farley, who had promised to pay his fine. Farley had been previously corricted of crime, and it would go hard with him if he were convicted. Smith pleaded guilty, but Farley failed to pay his fine. The District Attorney investigated the case, and caused a complaint of burglary to be sworn out against Farley, and thousamination was hold. Daparty District Attorney freman conducted the proceeding, and Charles Robeson of Kingsburg, the defense. The defense moved to dismiss the case on the ground that the defendant had already been acquilted of the charge. The motion was overrided. "THE AMERICAN GIRL." "THE AMERICAN GIRL."

Beginning next Monday the brightest of all American dramas "The American Girl," will hold the boards for two mights. The company is en route to New York from San Francisco, where it has had a successful run for four weeks. Little Tonimy Horn and dainty little Nina Cooke, who made the play in San Francisco, will still be retained. The cast itself will be the best you seen in "The American Girl,"

PHILOSOPHY OF CLOUDBURTS.

Correspondent's Clear, Concise and Satisfactory Explanation.

Entrop Resources:—Since the recene-called cloudburst in the foothills tave heard the expression on all sides What an awful cloudbarst that was,

have heard the expression on all sides, What an awful cloudbrist that was," Why it is called so is hard to tell, and the object of this article is to disprove this popular notion. Probably three-fourths of the populaes really believe that certain clouds hold water within their folls, much like aponge, and at certain times are rent asunder and the water spils out.

Why clouds, that are lighter than air, was hold up a substance as heavy as water science has thus far failed to make clear. To be brief then, clouds are only vapor, and in the case of the so-called bursts they are densely saturated, and floating into a stratum of air of just the right ton-perature to cause rapid condensed into water, falls in torrents, and we experience the so-called cloudburst. Clouds (vapor) being even lighter than air (else they would not be where they are), how in the name of reason can they shold up as heavy a substance? Persens the are acquired with pilosophy as applied to hydrostatics, of centres, do not hold to this theory of cloudbursts. However, if any one will prove to me that water is lighter than vapor, or wan the atmosphere, I will gracefully hack down and out, and deny that I ever nenned this article.
